

You are known by the company you keep

Keep good company...

Engage

Members of the Emerald Executive Association engage in ongoing business cooperation and relationship building. The EEA provides its members access to trusted professionals and current business leads. Members give preferential treatment to each other both as customers and as clients.

Exchange

By joining the Emerald Executive Association, you become part of a close-knit organization. You have the opportunity to learn first hand about leading business firms and the people behind them. You are also in a unique position to explain your firm's products and services to a large and receptive group of executives which will give you priority over your competition. Also, your sales opportunities may expand to include employees of member firms, their friends and families.

Advance

The Emerald Executive Association is an organization engaged in the exchange and advancement of business information among members for mutual benefit. We restrict membership to one firm from each business classification. By doing so, we are able to help one another by referring business contacts and leads to increase business volume.
